Annexation hinted at

The hamlet of Poplar Ridge is expected to become part of Drayton Valley.

Exactly when this will happen hasn't been determined.

Mayor Bob Mayhew told a recent Chamber of Commerce general meeting it doesn't make sense that Poplar Ridge is not part of Drayton Valley. He added, "I don't know when. I can't say much more."

The mayor hinted that any annexation would include more than just Poplar Ridge. "Sooner or later it will happen around Drayton Valley," the mayor stated.

Annexation was also discussed at a chamber-sponsored election forum prior to the latest municipal election.

Councillor Tom McGee called it a kettle of fish and stated "the town could use the tax base." However, McGee added, "I don't see the County of Parkland releasing Poplar Ridge just because we ask."

Howard Olsen suggested a study was needed. Dave Lundberg felt the town could use the extra tax base and Charlie Miner said it was a complex issue that can't be rushed into. Miner also stated the annexation of Poplar Ridge would result in a lot of benefits to the town, but there were other factors.

If the town proceeds with annexation, their population could jump anywhere from 600 to 1,000.

Landmark comes down

The top off Drayton Valley's water tower was removed during the weekend. The quarter-inch steel top was removed in four giant sections. All that remained Monday, was the photo on the left, showing the base and pillars. Removal of the tower during the weekend drew a lot of interested onlookers.

In-house feasibility study in the works

An in-house and a feasibility study is keeping town staff busy.

The in-house study is looking at renovating the Centennial Civic Arena into an administration complex to house the library, fire hall, town offices and recreation department.

The feasibility study is looking at local needs for a community centre.

Both reports are expected to be completed in mid-January.

Recreation director Calvin Bennefield says a questionnaire has been sent to current arena users. But, Bennefield says, they want to hear from everyone in the community that has an interest in a new community centre.

The questionnaire sent out to current users asks for their opinion on such things as their needs for ice time, commitment to outdoor ice, anticipated seating capacity, dressing rooms (how many and what features), concession, heating, flooring, boards, plexiglass, sound system, public washrooms (how many and their location), ideas on outside decor, skate sharpening services, the possibility of a pro shop and their commitment to operating costs.

"We need a lot of input," Bennefield says.

Any group, organization or team who would like to have some say in Drayton Valley's proposed arena/community centre, is urged to get in touch with Bennefield.

Bennefield spent two hours at a minor hockey meeting last week, explaining the questionnaire and getting feedback from the group. President Marv McKinney says one item discussed at length was the size of dressing rooms.

Money up for grabs

The County of Parkland has received 50 requests for Community Recreation Cultural (CRC) grant money.

Ed Haykowsky, west end recreation director says the requests amount to $550,000. The county has $470,000 in CRC money to distribute.

Meetings will be held next month to discuss the requests and make the decisions.

Haykowsky says seven of the requests are from this end of the country.

The Town of Drayton Valley has submitted a letter requesting funding for their proposed administration building and arena. No dollar figure is attached.

One of the biggest requests is from Easyford, where they are looking at costs of $255,000 for a new hall and equipment.

Other west end requests are from Tomahawk for a drop ceiling in the Agra Centre, the Pembina Nordic ski Club are looking for funds to build an enclosed shelter, the Drayton Valley Library want money for equipment, Rocky Rapids want to pave their driveway and Whitty are looking at a hall addition.

Social Services Minister

Osterman visits local facilities

Social Services Minister Connie Osterman made a 'hurried' tour of Drayton Valley last Thursday.

Osterman, accompanied by her executive assistant Doug Cameron and Drayton Valley MLA Shirley Cripps visited the Happy Day Care Centre, the Beehive, Shangri-La Lodge and the social service office. She also talked briefly with town manager Manny Deol and Councillor Tom McGee.

Parviz Lookmanjee, owner of the Happy Day Care was extremely pleased the minister toured her facility. While they didn't have much time to talk, Lookmanjee gave Osterman a letter, with instructions, to read when she had the time.

The Happy Day Care has 54 children ranging in age from six months to six years. Fifty per cent of the children are subsidized through Osterman's department. Lookmanjee says any cuts would hurt.

During her trip to Drayton Valley, Osterman was also informed about the recent cut in services which led to the loss of the mental health officer. Several groups in town, including local schools, are most concerned about this.

Cystic fibrosis fund gets $500 boost from Kinsmen

The provincial cystic fibrosis fund will grow by $500 thanks to the Drayton Valley Kinsmen.

President John Mulligan and cystic fibrosis chairman Yogi Abendroff sent $500 to the provincial organization last Thursday. The money is from the sale of Christmas books. Abendroff also reports another $1,600 will follow shortly, which is the result of donations through the cystic fibrosis coin canisters around town. Mulligan reports only 12 Christmas books left. These can be obtained at IGA, Penney's Drug Mart or Home Hardware.

However, the Kinsmen president did have a word of caution for consumers. It seems someone else is selling the same books in the community, and Mulligan says money from those sales are not earmarked for the C.F. campaign.

Weather

Temperatures continuing mild

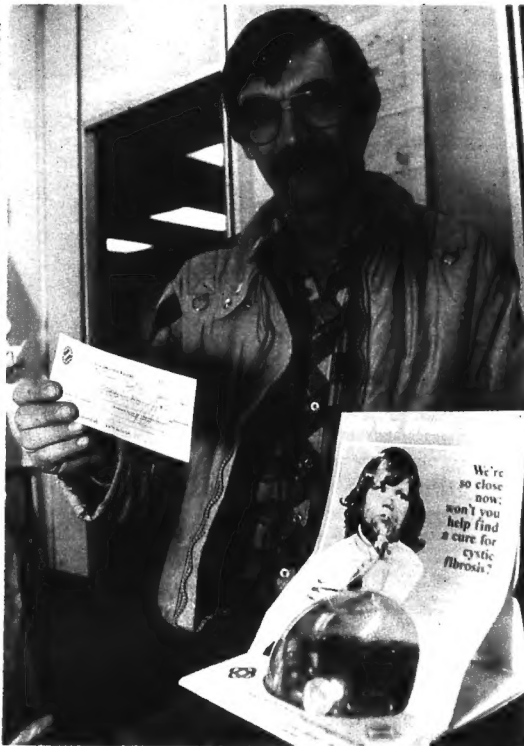

Milder than normal temperatures are being called for in this week's forecast for Drayton Valley and area.

Today (Tuesday) highs should reach near 0°C with lows dipping to -13°C. There is a 20 per cent chance of precipitation and expect increasing clouds.

On Wednesday, the forecast from the Edmonton Weather office, calls for highs between 0°C and 2°C with lows near -13°C. There is also a 10 per cent chance of precipitation.

An identical outlook is predicted for Thursday and Friday. Highs near 0°C and lows around -13°C with a 10 per cent chance of precipitation.

Normal temperatures for this time of year are highs of -7°C and lows near -17°C.

Entwistle says 'no' to amalgamation idea

Entwistle town council have voted against amalgamation despite a plea by an Evansburg councillor.

Entwistle Mayor Dave Gylander said they are "not in favor at this time" of the move. "It would not be in our best interests," he added.

Gylander was commenting on the Entwistle council's feelings after they met with George Richardson last week. Richardson is a councillor from Evansburg and president of the Evansburg/Entwistle Chamber of Commerce.

Gylander said the present Entwistle council will not be pursuing the plan which would see the two communities become one.

"He (Richardson) had some good arguments but we're just not interested," Gylander added.

Richardson said he was speaking to the council as a "concerned citizen" and he would do "everything possible to bring it (the amalgamation) about." "I refuse to speak on behalf of or comment on the council of Evansburg," he added.

"I would say, however, that if the positive aspects of amalgamation are not followed up now...we will not be progressing," he continued. "I suggest we look up and look ahead."

"I want to bury the past and the goodwill found on both sides of the river must be used to build a better town."

Richardson, who is also first vice-president of the Evergreen Tourist Association, said the amalgamation would help to increase tourism in the area.

He said the "very thought" of being the newest town in Alberta with a provincial park at the centre would be a tourist attraction. The amalgamation would also work well in helping to promote Highway 22, Richardson said.

"We don't want to shut the door completely," he added.

"Let's bury the hatchet," Richardson said.

Opinions

Firemen may face more access problems

Drayton Valley needs a new fire hall. No one, especially Fire Chief Sheldon Fuson and the volunteers, will argue that point.

The present two-bay hall, attached to the town office, is too small.

And the location of the hall, in the heart of downtown, is also a concern. Fuson has always said that if a new hall was built, he would like to see it away from the downtown area.

The fire chief's biggest concerns, other than the cramped quarters, is the volunteers' access to the hall and the parking.

The town is currently doing an in-house study on renovating the Centennial Civic Arena to accommodate the fire department, recreation department, library and town offices.

It would seem that if the in-house study favors this move, the firefighters will have the same access problem, as the arena is just a block away. Besides, they will have the post office traffic to tend with.

As the town carries out the study, the problem of the firemen getting to the hall is certainly one priority they will have to address.

Sidewalks a concern

Sidewalks.

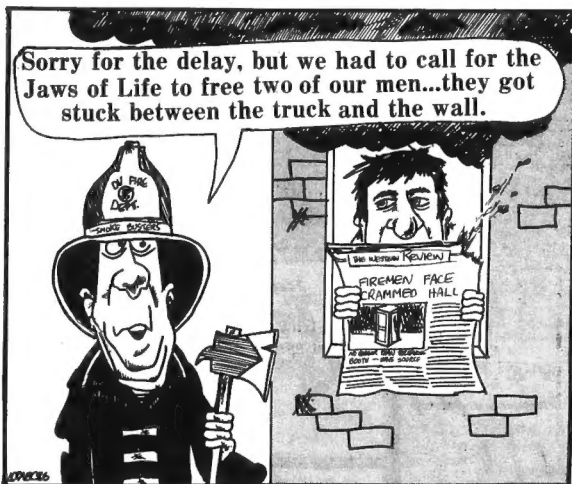

In the summer it's the dust, mud and litter and in the winter, it's the ice and snow.

For the most part, winter walking conditions around town are deplorable.

Both businesses and residents alike fail to keep their walkways clear. Some of the worst offenders are the owners of empty lots.

Considering all the pedestrian traffic in town, we'd like to see the town's bylaw enforcement officer issue some stern warnings or tickets to those who don't clean their walks.

If manpower is a problem, both the Boy Scouts and staff at the Beehive hire out their services to clear away the snow.

'Special' edition for year-end

The real estate industry is well represented on the Drayton Valley and District Chamber of Commerce executive.

There's no less than five real estate representatives on the 17-member board.

First vice-president and former town councillor Claire Carefoot and Bill Arnold represent Century 21. Helen Deal and Terry Kilborn are with NRS and Rod Schultz is with Serenas.

Another new face on the chamber executive is RCMP Constable Greg Fedor. It's encouraging to see this recent newcomer getting involved in community business.

It would be interesting to see the light bill for the new lights on 50th Street south.

Editor's Notes

If you didn't notice, these lights are on during the day. Is that really necessary?

If students at Frank Maddock High are always eager to get out early, it's understandable. Clocks in many of the rooms haven't been turned back with the latest time change.

We have to ask. Is it that much trouble?

Whatever happened to the good old snow fences?

The faded snow fences always seemed to be a good idea, to stop a lot of the blowing snow off the roads. But in the past few years, we've seen less and less of these fences.

A string of snow fence could definitely be used on the west side of 50th Street, across from Woodland Chrysler. Every time the wind blows, the snow piles up along that busy route.

Reader believes government should lead by example

Dear Editor,

Our province is facing serious financial problems and the government is looking at making some budget cuts. Let's look at these budget measures.

There will be cuts in medicare service and probably an increase in premiums. We can well do without the public paying for abortions, cosmetic surgery, self-inflicted illnesses and victims of accidents who could, and should, be using seat belts. That would be fair.

Also, to be fair, why not cut wages to hospital workers, nurses, doctors and hospital boards and directors?

Letters

I ask this be considered in view of the fact that almost all of the workers in private industry have faced cuts to their income and increases in their costs. Miners, oil workers, farmers, construction workers, retail workers, etc. have all taken cuts in pay. While these workers, who face true market forces, must take pay cuts and face stiff competition, the government oils the squeaky wheel.

I see where senior civil servants and those not represented by unions get a raise. If we must cut costs, why not cut wages and keep only the staff needed for a good economic service?

The same comments about medical service apply to the department of education. I have had six children in the school system and in our experience, about 20 per cent of the teachers should earn twice what they receive and the rest are not worth one quarter of what they receive.

I believe the government should lead by example. They were no sooner in office then they voted themselves a raise. The civil service has gotten a raise and all who draw from the public purse have received more money, and this is in addition to pensions that are more generous and pegged to inflation.

The people who ultimately pay the bills are the people in private industry as workers and owners. Their numbers are getting smaller and so are their incomes.

If there must be short-term pain then let us all take a share of it; pensioners, civil servants, government, and government-paid professionals along with the private sector.

Sincerely,
Rex Gray

Dog owner concerned about Parvo disease

Dear Editor,

My concerns are important.

They are directed to the people of Drayton Valley. My concerns are about Parvo.

The town of Drayton Valley has a "public awareness" out about the dog problem in Drayton. But that didn't help my four-month-old puppy.

On Saturday, Nov. 29 I had to take my half-dead puppy to the vet's. He had to be put to sleep, because of Parvo.

On Thursday, Nov. 27, a strange dog was in the pen with my two dogs. My older dog is fine, so far, but we fear he might be in the incubation period. Only time will tell.

To the owner of the dog that was running loose, and to other people who let their dogs run at night when they think the dog catcher isn't working: Your dogs could be carriers, but never get the deadly disease, but the carrier passes it to other animals. In most cases, Parvo ends in a painful death.

I had to tell my three-year-old why her puppy wasn't coming home anymore. For her, my thanks to the owner of the dog that was in my back yard.

Sincerely,
Christine Pastushuk

TOWN OF DRAYTON VALLEY

Pursuant to section 11 of the Department of Municipal Affairs Act, an inspection was conducted at the Town of Drayton Valley municipal office on October 14, 1986 and the following comments are provided for your consideration.

A review of the 1985 financial statement and supporting documents indicates the Town of Drayton Valley continues to enjoy an excellent financial liquidity position. Council are once again commended for their sound financial management.

The books, records and accounting systems were examined and found to be in good order and up to date. The administrative systems and procedures currently in use appear to meet the requirements of the municipality. The Town of Drayton Valley is being administered in a professional manner.

Your attention is drawn to section 123 of the Municipal Government Act wherein, if an annual meeting is not held, this report must be published.

It is requested that this report be acknowledged, in writing, by the Mayor.

Heroes honored

Five Drayton Valley Police employees and one Calgary man were recently honored for "heroism" stemming from a 1984 accident that killed two men.

Rick Radowski, Bernie Leber, Doug MacLenn, Wade Patras and Allan Savoy, all of Drayton Valley, received honorary testimonial certificates at a ceremony in Edmonton in late November. The certificate was presented to the five, along with Pat Robert of Calgary.

The Western Review, Drayton Valley, Alta., December 16, 1986, Page 7

by Helen Munley, Lieutenant-Governor of Alberta.

The certificates read: "Awarded for heroism and presence of mind in assisting in an attempt to save the lives of two men who were overcome by their gas." The accident happened on a well site on November 22, 1984 in the Brazeau area.

The honors were given out at the Investiture of the Saving Honors ceremony held at Government House.

Eric Percy Turner, who created the foundation in his own name.

Donation received

"Mothers, newborn babies and the community" will benefit from a donation to the Drayton Valley hospital by a foundation set up by an area pioneer.

The Eric Percy Turner Foundation donated $7,500 to the local hospital to help purchase an electronic fetal heart monitor.

Turner was a pioneer in the area and lived from 1921 until his death in 1982, at the age of 82. He homesteaded just west of town and farmed. Turner, who had no relatives in the area, was "well-known" and served on the school board.

The foundation he set up was to provide money for medical-related causes.

Hospital administrator Jim Janzen said the $7,500 will be supplemented with surplus funds to cover the $14,000 cost of the new piece of equipment.

"I want to thank both of you for considering the Drayton Valley Health facility and this will be appreciated by the mothers and newborn and the community," Janzen said in accepting the donation. Betty Starling and Louise Tucker made the presentation on behalf of the foundation.

"The foundation was set up by Mr. Turner so

Funds for terminal are doubtful

The possibility of a new terminal building at the Drayton Valley airport doesn't look too promising.

M.A. Shirley Cripps says she is aware of the town's request for funds but says, "I doubt if any terminal buildings will be built in the next year. I doubt if there's any money," she explained.

However, Cripps agreed that a better building was needed. "It's just adequate. It's a place out of the wind," she stated.

The present terminal building was an old school band building and was moved to the airport in '82.

The idea of approaching the provincial government for a new terminal building surfaced at a transportation committee meeting, that was looking into installing new siding. Any improvements are on hold until some definite word comes back from the government.

Norette lose in final

Out of town teams won the three-day bantam hockey tournament last weekend.

Edson Nordiques built up a 3-0 first period lead en route to a lopsided 9-2 win over the Drayton Valley Norette Oilers in the 'B' final. In the 'C' final, Calahoo won their fourth game of the weekend, an 8-3 win over Sherwood Park.

The Oilers had to be the favorites heading into the 'B' final, as they won three games in the round-robin, including a 5-2 win over the Nordiques. Edson had a 2-1 record in preliminary action.

Captain Bryan Everett led the Oilers in their opening game win over the Nordiques with a pair of goals. Miles Parker, Roland Polsfut and Craig Warren had singles. The Oilers made it two straight with an 8-1 rout over Lacombe with Trevor Fedorus and Jason Kipling leading the way with two goals each. Dale Warren's club made it three straight with a 5-3 win over Devon with Brent Plotts, Alan MacKenzie, Daylen Plannmuller, Everett and Fedorus getting the goals.

After their loss to the Oilers, Edson stormed back to beat Devon 7-3 and doubled Lacombe 6-3.

Mike Harding figured in seven of the Nordiques goals in the final as he scored two and set up five others. Geoff Gordon, Jason Belcourt and Adrian Boschman also had two goal efforts for Edson. Shaun Tucker scored the Oilers first goal at 10:38 of the third on a power play with his club trailing 7-0. Polsfut added the second Drayton Valley at 16:55.

In the only other 'B' division game, Devon edged Lacombe 4-3.

Calahoo qualified for the 'C' final with a perfect 3-0 record while Sherwood Park were 2-1. Calahoo outscored their opposition 19-5 in round robin action as they defeated Parkland 1-1, doubled Sherwood Park 8-4 and blanked Devon 7-0. Sherwood Park edged Devon 5-3 and defeated Parkland 7-2.

One of the bright spots for host Parkland was a four goal effort by Adrian Agnais in their opening game 6-4 win over Devon. Shaun St. Louis and Jason Malanowich had singles.

Roland Polsfut watches as the Edson goalie juggles the puck.

Pankewicz and Allen lead Devils' attack

A two-week layoff didn't slow down the Drayton Valley Devils on the weekend.

The Heritage Junior B League-leading Devils extended their regular season record to 11-1 win/loss with two wins on the road.

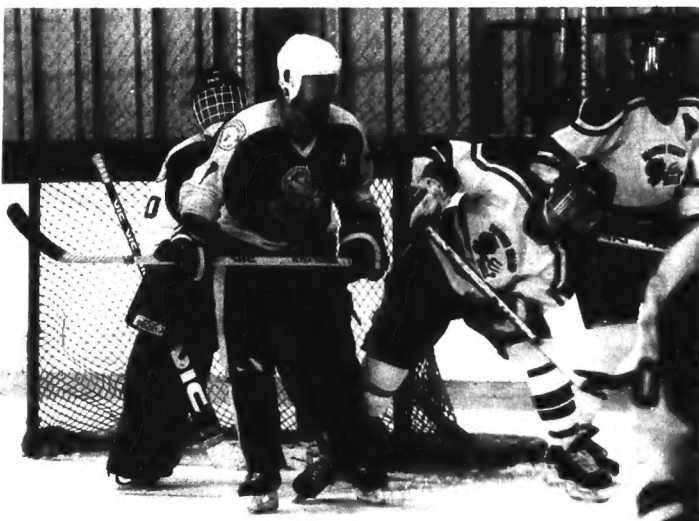

On Saturday, they needed overtime to edge the Rimbey Weststars 7-6 after whipping the Barrhead Elks 12-5 the night before.

The Devils will close out the first half of their season on home ice this weekend with the Spruce Grove Broncos in town Friday followed by Barrhead on Saturday. Both games start at 8:30 p.m.

Trent Pankewicz led the Devils' attack against Rimbey with a four goal effort including the winner against his former mates at 1:11 of the overtime session. Chad Allen also had a big night with two goals and four helpers. Tim Allen collected the other Devils' goal. Robin Cockwill, who played with Pankewicz and Allen, had a pair of assists. Trevor Cich and Sheldon Dunham also had two assists.

Chad Allen and Pankewicz also had big efforts against Barrhead. Allen scored three and set up one other while Pankewicz had two goals and three assists.

Bill Adler, who played both forward and defence, had two goals and three helpers. Newcomer Mark Flodell, Dean Mulgrew, Brad Pankewicz, Jeff Thiel and Everett Ness had the other was a costly one. Mulgrew suffered a knee injury and could be out of action for the balance of the season.

Drayton Valley goals. Defenceman Kevin Hutchinson collected three assists. The win over Barrhead

Manager Harvey Allen was on the Devils' bench for both games, filling in for suspended coaches Preston Yachimec and Conley Dunham. Blair Shimabashi also sat out the two weekend games due to a suspension.

Coaches sit out

The Drayton Valley Minor Hockey Association has suspended two of their coaches.

President Marti McKinley says the board decided last week to suspend the unnamed coaches, one for the balance of the season and the other until January, at which time the situation will be reviewed. McKinley didn't go into any details on the suspension, other than to say minor hockey's coaching philosophy was being challenged.

"It wasn't an easy decision. It was difficult," McKinley explained after a 90-minute meeting that included several parents.

In other minor hockey news, McKinley says their association has obtained a copy machine. It's her hope several community groups, who have a need for a copy machine, will share the operating costs. So far, minor ball and the Scout Hall Association have expressed an interest. The copy machine will be kept at the chamber office.

SCOREBOARD

Polsfut leads Norette

Roland Polsfut had four goals and one assist for the Norette bantams as they split a pair of games last week. Norette dumped Lacombe 4:1 as Polsfut had two goals and one assist. Singles were added by Jaylen Hannumiller and Trevor Fedorus.

Earlier in the week Norette lost 6:1 in Olds. Polsfut scored the first two Drayton Valley goals as they took a 1:2 lead in the second period. Other markers came from Craig Warren and Miles Parker. Olds scored four third period goals to win the game.

DV Meter wins again

DV Meter atoms chalked up another win in Lacombe on Sunday.

The stom rep team played a strong game in dumping Lacombe 6:4. Cory Davidson played well in net behind a strong defense.

The scoring was led by Bryson Kuzek with two goals and one assist. Robin Smashnak also had two goals with Darcy Lauder adding one goal and one assist.

Brooker Tralengen popped in a single goal. Ian Cathrae had two assists while Eric Schneider rounded out the points with one assist.

Clippers split two games

Rose's Well Service Clippers earned a split in four league games during the first week of December.

The Clippers opened the month (Dec. 2) on a losing note, dropping a 4:1 decision to Red Deer. But they rebounded three days later with a 9:3 win over Rocky. Jeff Risser had a six-point night, with three goals and three assists. David Smestad had two goals for the Clippers.

On Dec. 6, the Clippers ran into a red hot goaltender at Delburne and lost 10:2. They rounded out the week the following night with a 10:5 win over Red Deer with David Smestad and Lernermeier scoring three goals each.

The Christmas season is fast approaching and so in your children's two-week vacation.

Remember, we can always keep them busy here! Clip out the pool Christmas schedule in this week's edition of the paper.

Don't miss this year's free Santa swim, Dec. 23 from 2-5 p.m. Santa should arrive about 3 p.m. He'll have treats for everyone.

We are currently accepting registrations for all learn-to-swim classes offered in January. Start the new year off with a learn-to-swim resolution.

Commencement dates:

- adult learn to swim: yellow to maroon; Tuesday, Jan. 6, a.m. only.
- adult stroke improvement: Monday, Jan. 7, a.m. only.
- adult learn to snorkel: Monday, Jan. 7, a.m. only.
- Monday and Wednesday after school lessons: Monday, Jan. 12, 4-6 p.m.; little dip pers, crusaders/voyagers; yellow, red and maroon.
- Tuesday and Thursday after school lessons: Tuesday, Jan. 13, 4-6 p.m.; orange, red, blue/maroon, special needs, and extensive stroke improvement.
- Saturday morning classes: Jan. 17, 9:00am; yellow, orange, red, maroon, babies/tots, dippers/padders, blue/green, grey/white and extensive stroke improvement for adults and children.
- adult learn to swim: Monday, Feb. 16, a.m. and p.m. All levels are offered during both the morning and evening classes. Register for this class soon, as we are filling quickly.
- In January we have a number of incentives planned for your personal fitness program: a distance swim club will commence the first week in January; aquazone participation challenge and round robin water sports waterspiel!

Remember, if you want to stay slim this Christmas, keep in the swim.

Sports museum a wealth of information

By Alan Hobson

Their worth isn't measured in money — a suit that climbed Mount Everest, a World Cup that came from France, a saddle whose owner rode Northern Dancer.

Alone, they are just objects. But together with the historical significance of the people who go with them, they represent a legacy left to Albertans that can only be measured in effort and excellence.

This is the Alberta Sports Hall of Fame and Museum. Tucked quietly off to one side of the ground floor in the Petro-Canada Centre in downtown Calgary, its wealth of sport memorabilia, information and artifacts exists largely unnoticed by most passersby. But for those who chance to stop, the impression can be indelible.

"If you have a kid who's motivated and talented in sports and you show them what's happened in the past, it gives them a tremendous boost," says Lorraine Wylant, the facility's coordinator. "They realize all of a sudden there's no reason why they can't be a Gretzky."

The Sports Hall of Fame and Museum showcases 111 athletes, four teams and 64 sport builders who, since the turn of the century, have brought fame, and in some cases, fortune to Alberta.

The list includes the likes of Taber's Johnny Longden, the triple crown winning jockey whose mounts collected more than $24 million in the course of his career; Calgary's Ken Read, the first male Canadian to win a World Cup downhill ski race; and Edmonton's Jackie Parker, the three-time CFL Schenley Award winner for the league's most outstanding player.

And there are more — Ron Northcott, Graham Smith, Maury Van Vleet, and J. Percy Page, Page's Edmonton Commercial Grads women's basketball team, the "queens of the court" from 1915-1940, are highlighted in the museum. They won an incredible 96 per cent of their 522 games, many against men's teams and never lost a Canadian women's championship.

The hall of fame and museum has existed as a non-profit organization since 1958 and has had a permanent site only since February. It is one of the programs of the Alberta Sport Council, also non-profit, a provincial Crown corporation dedicated to amateur sport in the province.

Each year, some 80-100 people are nominated in 35 sports from archery to wrestling, but only seven hall of famers are selected. The deadline for this year's nominations is Jan. 31, with successful candidates inducted at a banquet June 13 at the Calgary Convention Centre.

Anyone with nomination suggestions, sport memorabilia or artifacts they might like to lend the museum should contact Wylant at 269-6000.

Bonspiel is nearing

The entry deadline is closed and the oilmen's bonspiel is filled up.

Organizers of the Drayton Valley bonspiel say 48 rinks will compete for around $8,000 in prize money.

The event is scheduled to run from January 9 to 11 with the first draw at 8 a.m. on January 9. The finals are expected to be at about 6 p.m. on January 11.

Cartwright wins a gold

Amanda Cartwright didn't have to work very hard in earning the gold medal at the Silver Gloves in Lethbridge recently.

Cartwright, 12, who is a member of the Derrick Boxing Club, only had one fight, the final, in the 105-pound class. The local boxer, who weighed in at 96 pounds and moved up to the next class, defeated a Lethbridge fighter in the final. The fight was called in the second round when the southern Alberta boxer's corner threw in the towel.

Cartwright hopes to attend the Golden Gloves at Cardston in February. Several other local fighters are also planning to attend that card.

Curling club waiting

Brian Isert's ju jutsu class keeps growing. At last count the Tuesday-night session in the H.W. Pickup school gym numbered 33. If any organizations or businesses have some extra dollars, ju jutsu can certainly make good use of them. Isert is handicapped in his instruction due to the lack of mats. He has some offers of money that the County of Parkland will match toward the purchase of a few mats. But, any help would be appreciated. Isert can be reached at 542-6055.

The recent gym-a-thon at Frank Maddock High raised about $1,300.

Organizer Mark Smith says that's about what was needed to purchase new uniforms for the Amazons' and Warriors' basketball squads.

If you enjoy ice fishing, word has it the fish are biting at Wabamun, Pigeon and south Buck Lake

Everyone we've talked with seems pleased with the recent 'closed doors' meeting that discussed the proposed community centre.

The curlers appear to have the inside track. Land is available at West Valley Park for their new facility, and once the government comes up with a price for the existing building and land, it will be full steam ahead for Bruce Clemmer and his crew.

Any plans for a new arena and eventually some sort of community centre, must wait until the town completes an in-house study on renovating the Centennial Civic Arena. If the study shows that turning the arena into an administration complex is feasible, then a new arena could be a year or two down the road.

But without second guessing anyone, we'll be impatiently waiting for January and the town's announcement on the cost the figure of $800,000 was mentioned several months ago of turning the arena into a library, fire hall, town office and recreation department

The Drayton Valley curling club has to sit and wait. Wait for word from the government on the price for their building and land.

Club president Bruce Clemmer says a government representative was out last week to appraise the facilities. He added the "real estate appraiser" will be submitting his report to the government this week and they expect an answer in a month.

While the waiting continues the club has plans to meet with town officials and discuss plans for the proposed community complex.

"Things look pretty good," Clemmer added

Work is not over for officer

Hunting season may be over but Fred Kreiser's work isn't.

The local fish and wildlife officer will now turn his attention towards jacklighters, or night hunters using lights.

Kreiser says jacklighting is heaviest from now until early in the new year.

"It's continuous year around," he explained.

He says they often notice the culprits the most after a fresh snow fall.

Tracks in a field where there is "no reason for anyone to be out there."

But while his attention is now focused on jacklighters, Kreiser will also be spending some busy days ahead in court for all the charges he laid during regular season.

"Most of the offences were human error."

"I didn't run into any out and out traffickers," he added.

Athletic awards

Nominations needed

The town is once again receiving nominations for their athletic achievement awards.

With the end of the year in sight, recreation director Calvin Bennefield says this is a good time to submit names for the award. He's hoping names will come in quicker

Kreiser checked an estimated 4,000 to 5,000 hunters over the season and on some busy days stopped more than 250. In addition to the daily checks Kreiser also responded to a lot of calls on the wildlife tip line.

"The cooperation was excellent on the 1800 line," Kreiser added. Generally, people had good information including licence plate numbers, times and other helpful facts.

He said there was "fantastic" response to the second year program.

His first hunting season in the Drayton Valley area was also made easier by the RCMP, he says.

"Throughout the season the Drayton Valley RCMP and Breton RCMP both were extremely cooperative."

"We worked together really well," he added.

this year than last, which was the first for the local recognition

Groups, teams and organizations who know of someone who should be officially recognized, are asked to call the recreation office at 542-5327

Bill Campbell and Dana O'Hearn.

Athletes do well

For Breton's Dana O'Hearn and Bill Campbell it was their first races on the new Olympic biathlon site.

And the two Breton Olympic hopefuls came away winners.

O'Hearn won both the girls' unofficial race and Alberta Cup 1. Campbell on the other hand took the boys' unofficial race and captured third in the boys' Alberta Cup 1 race.

O'Hearn finished two minutes and 11 seconds in front of second place in the unofficial race and then skied to a whopping seven minute 27 second win in the Alberta Cup.

Campbell skied to a 2:24 victory in his first race but settled for third in the Alberta Cup race just seven seconds behind second place and only two minutes behind first.

Conditions at the site, near Canmore, were far from perfect. During the unofficial races on December 6 skiers had problems with shallow snow. The following day, during Alberta Cup races, conditions warmed up along with high, gusting winds making the snow sticky.

The Alberta Cup's second race is scheduled for January 3 in Hinton.

Eye protector makers get okay from CSA

Five manufacturers of eye protectors for racquet sports have been granted the right to use the CSA mark on their certified products, Canadian Standards Association announced recently.

The certification and testing program, the first of its kind in Canada, was initiated at the request of manufacturers and medical authorities concerned with the increasing number of serious eye injuries suffered by squash and racquetball players.

To obtain certification

the manufacturers submitted samples of their products to CSA to undergo the rigorous testing called for in the association's standard racquet sports eye protection.

The manufacturers certified are: AOCO Ltd., Lismore, Markham, Ont.; CRS Sports Ltd., Edmonton, Imperial Optical Canada, Toronto; Leader Manufacturing Inc., Longueuil, Que.; Peppers Inc., Hamilton, Ont.

Dr. Tom Pashby, a noted Toronto ophthalmologist and chairman of the CSA Committee which developed the standard, says about 25 per cent of all eye injuries in amateur sports occur in racquetball and squash.

According to figures compiled by the Canadian Ophthalmological Society, racquet sports have claimed 716 serious eye injuries — including 31 blinded eyes — in the last 10 years.

Dr. Pashby says not all injuries are recorded in the official statistics. He estimates that in Canada this year more than 800 racquet sports enthusiasts will suffer minor to serious eye injuries.

Public skating hours extended

Calvin Bennetfield's phone has been ringing off the hook.

The recreation directors reports receiving a number of calls over public skating hours at the Centennial Civic Arena.

Times set aside for public skating are on Friday nights from 6:45 p.m. to 8 p.m. and Sundays from 1 p.m. to 2:15 p.m.

Bennetfield says the time will be extended through the Christmas holidays.

Be cautious during winter fun

"Après ski" in a east may have its glamor in films, but in reality it's not all that great.

The ski hill is well known for the risks it presents, where even expert skiers can suffer from fractures and sprains. In addition to skiing, other winter activities like skating, tobogganing, even walking down the sidewalk, present opportunities for fractures and sprains to happen.

While fractures and sprains cannot always be prevented, some precautions can be taken, according to St. John Ambulance. Keeping sidewalks clear of snow and ice will prevent painful and unexpected falls. Lawn tools and toys should be put away in the autumn, before they become hidden hazards in a snow-covered yard.

Use precaution when skiing for the first time. Check for trees, rocks and other hazards the first time you go down the hill.

Skating on frozen lakes and ponds present certain hazards you should be on the lookout for. These include thin ice, uneven surfaces, and rocks or sticks protruding through the ice.

Even with these, and other precautions, accidents still happen. This winter, be prepared to help when someone does suffer a fracture or sprain.

Pain, tenderness and swelling are signs of a sprain or fracture. First aid treatment begins by steadying and supporting the injured limb. Do not move the victim. Dress wounds and control bleeding. A shoe, skate or ski boot can be used as a splint if there are no bleeding in joints. If the victim must be moved, secure the limb with bandages over a padded splint. A pillow, blanket or extra clothing will work. When the fractured limb has been immobilized in a splint, raise and support it to reduce bleeding and swelling. Remember to check circulation of the limb to ensure bandages are not too tight; loosen if necessary. All fractures or sprains should receive medical attention.

A St. John Ambulance first aid program will teach you how to recognize and treat sprains and fractures, along with other first aid skills. Before your next skating party or ski weekend, why not be prepared for unexpected injuries by taking a first aid course. Contact the nearest branch of St. John Ambulance for more information or call the provincial office at 452-6565.

Valdine Chow bowled a 282 to record the high single in ladies' league action in the bowling alley this week. Laura Barker bowled a 692 for high triple while the Hoopers rolled 1,062 and 3,052 to capture team high single and triple.

In the mixed league, Warren Carruthers took both high single and triple for the ladies with a 329 and a 750. Roger Sirota had a 213 for men's high single with Mike Maynard taking the high triple at 190. Team high single went to the SCs with a 1,212 and the Waters had high triple with a 3,175.

Bowlers of the month for November were Faye Jacobson with plus 655 and Ed Hines with a plus 211.

Smurf of the week were Mark Holmgren with a plus 99 and Jeffery Maclock with a plus 99. Smurf of the month was Dennis Zelensky who won a $25 gift certificate at Dawn Rae Jewellers.

In the YBC league, Tammy Adamson led the bantams with 84 POA (points over average) while Michael Brown and Michael Parenteau had 54 POA. In the junior class, Holly Pitka had 84 POA with Jeff Harris at 86 POA. Diane Berezins had 96 POA to lead the seniors and Todd McLean had 90 POA.

For the golden age league, May, Brennan had 31 POA for Wednesday bowlers while Paul Pakunowicz was the leading man Saturday's league, won Bertha Elliott with 84 POA and Lloyd Jensen with 47 POA.

Check new toys at Christmas

Safety in toys should not be taken for granted at any time of the year.

But the holiday season is particularly hazardous as when new toys arrive in the home and adults are occupied with many other things.

It's wise to take a careful look at the toys other people give your children.

Small children can choke when they try to swallow part of a toy and the object jams in the back of the throat. A small object can also be inhaled into the lungs.

Some small objects, such as alkaline disc (button) batteries, present a serious threat if they are swallowed.

Parts of a toy given to an older child can cause problems if they mistakenly find their way into the hands of an infant or young child.

CSA sets standards for electrical toys that are not battery operated, to protect users from electrical fire and shock hazards.

You can look for the CSA mark on transformers for toys and hobby use, such as with train sets, and on electrically operated toys, like toy ovens. Adaptors can mostly used with video games are also CSA certified.

School Christmas story winners

The winners have been announced in the Elementary B school Christmas story competition.

Beth Davis is the Grade 4 winner with her submission entitled Christmas Eve.

Amber McIsaac, who wrote about a Christmas Wish is the Grade 5 winner.

And, Melodie Webber won top honors in Grade 6 with Something Wrong.

The Western Review is pleased to publish the three award-winning articles.

Christmas Eve

By Beth Davis, Grade 4

One night it was dark with a full, big moon and lots of little stars.

It was exactly 12 p.m. Christmas Eve. I heard this thump! I rushed to my room and pretended I was sleeping.

No one came in so I got up and went to the living room. I looked up the chimney and you know what I saw? Santa Claus was stuck!

I asked, "Are you okay?" and he said, "Can you help me get out?" So I ran to mom and dad's room and I woke them up.

I told them Santa Claus was stuck in the chimney. Dad jumped out of bed and ran to the living room and dad looked up the chimney.

Sure enough, it was Santa. Dad said to throw the sack of toys on the roof. But he couldn't, so dad ran outside and climbed onto the roof.

He reached down and pulled out his sack of toys. Then he told Santa to sit in his tummy, so he did and dad pushed him down as hard as he could.

Santa came down with a big thump and soon came out all over the place. Santa said "thank you" and when dad came in Santa asked dad if I could go with him to deliver toys to all the children. Dad said yes, so away we went.

Boy, we were reindeer ever next! And you know what? Rudolph's nose really does light up!

It was so much fun riding Santa's sleigh from house to house top. We delivered all the toys. And Santa did not have to go down all the chimneys because that's what I did. Santa did not want to get stuck again.

My favorite house was a little girl who was very poor. We left her a puppy and some food for their Christmas dinner.

We got back home just in time to open our presents. Boy, was it tired! I told my family that I helped Santa deliver Christmas presents all night. No one believed me except dad.

I can hardly wait until next Christmas because Santa asked me to help him again.

The Christmas Wish

By Amber McIsaac, Grade 5

There was once a boy who was very poor.

He had only one Christmas wish - to find his dad a job. He had tried very hard to get him and his dad had tried, but they were unfortunate.

The boy believed in Santa and very much wanted to talk to him. He had no phone so he couldn't try phoning him and he had many times written to Santa but received nothing back. He prayed and waited for Christmas Day.

He awoke early one morning and found his father gone. There was a note. It said, "Son, I am gone looking for a job so don't worry about me. Don't leave the bridge (for they lived under a bridge) and don't talk to anyone. Love Daddy."

The boy did not want to stay and see his father come home with a sad face and tell the unfortunate news, so he also decided to look for a job.

He walked and walked and finally, he came to a window with a big sign in it that said HELP WANTED!

He didn't want to miss the job, so he quickly ran inside. It smelled of oil and moths and a man with a dirty face walked over to him.

"Want a job?" he asked. "cause I got one."

"Oh, yes!" the boy said politely. "My dad really needs one."

Well, he gave him the job. It was as a mechanic, for his dad had once been a mechanic before he was divorced. The boy couldn't believe his wish had come true and he ran all the way home.

He sat under the bridge and waited for his dad to come home, and sure enough, his father came home with a sad face. He told the news, as usual, and the boy waited to tell his father the news because he wanted it to be a surprise.

The boy could hold the news in no longer, so he finally had to tell.

"Dad, I got you a job at the station on 37th Avenue. Tomorrow morning you start and..."

"Right on!" his father said, his eyes glistening. "You got me a job!"

"Yup! As a mechanic!" he proudly blurted out. His father was delighted, and danced for joy in the moonlight.

He got up early the next morning and got cleaned up and his son proudly showed him the way. They got there at exactly the right time and the manager explained how much he got paid.

This was a very busy station and he got paid $50 a week! This was a fortune for the boy.

His father worked hard and finally he had earned $500 and the next day was Christmas Eve. The boy had asked his father if they could get a tree but his father said the money was for a real house (for they lived in an apartment now). The boy didn't mind until the boys at school started teasing him.

It was now Christmas Eve. He wasn't excited and he had gone to sleep early. His father had planned to surprise him and the boy had gotten his father a present earned out of working money for a surprise and had put it on his pillow.

The boy never looked anywhere or was nosey so he hadn't looked in the closet. He decorated the tree and put tiny presents under it and went to bed.

The next morning, the boy went to get a sip of water, and to his surprise, his father was sitting in the rocking chair in red pyjamas, laughing. This was the least he could do, for his son had gotten him a present and a job.

"Come here, son," he cried happily. "Open your gifts!" The boy ran and hugged his father.

"Merry Christmas, son!" "Merry Christmas, dad!"

Something Wrong
Melodie Webber, Grade 6

On the day before Christmas Eve, Santa was packing his bag and there wasn't enough room for the rest of the presents. Santa knew it was impossible for his bag to get too full!

He looked at the bag and found a rip. It ripped so deep, the gold showed through. He looked closely and saw he was fortunate enough the gold didn't rip. The gold is a magic linen, so it stretches the bag so it never gets too small.

He called for his elves. He told them about the discovery. The elves gasped in horror! They looked all over for a piece of thick, red linen. Santa asked Mrs. Claus if she had a piece. She looked and found a piece.

It was Christmas Eve now and he just finished sewing it on when it was time to go.

The elves got the reindeer and hooked them up and off Santa went.

He delivered presents to all the people and with a wink of his eye he went back and he is home making presents for next year!

Band performance

A member of the Frank Maddock high school band gives her best during the band's annual concert held last week. The crowd heard students from Grade 7 to 12 perform their favorite Christmas tunes.

SCHOOL NOTEBOOK

Frank Maddock High

It's a busy week at the Drayton Valley high school.

A pancake breakfast will be held tomorrow (Wednesday) from 7:30 to 8:30 a.m. in the gym. Admission is canned food or a new toy for Santas Anonymous. Last year the pancake breakfast collected about 880 pounds of food for the local Christmas campaign.

On Thursday night, K97 will provide the music for a school dance, from 8 p.m. to midnight in the gym.

Then on Friday, regular classes will be held in the morning with a pot luck lunch sponsored by the Bx 30 class booked for the gym. This will be followed by an afternoon of fun, with the school's annual Christmas concert.

Entertainment will be provided by Blair Proctor's band, performing arts, a drama presentation by the staff and a visit from Santa.

Christmas holidays start on Dec. 19 with classes resuming Jan. 5.

Eight students from the school's beauty culture class are looking forward to the new year. On Jan. 22 they're off to California for a five-day trip.

Exchange student Hughes Gauthier, who attended FMHS for two and a half months, returned home to Quebec last week. In February, Rod Poffenroth will travel to Quebec to stay with the Gauthiers as part of the student exchange program. Gauthier stayed with the Poffenroths while in Drayton Valley.

Stephanie Maxner, of Germany, who also attend ed classes at FMHS, left last week. Although not part of an exchange program, Maxner came here to understand English better and to learn more about the culture.

And, the high school has a new exchange student from Costa Rica.

El Dorado
This year, as in the past, students and staff will support Santas Anonymous instead of exchanging gifts. An unwrapped gift, non-perishable food or cash donation can be taken to the school by Friday.

Students will be participating in a 'free' 30-minute swim at the Park Valley Pool on Thursday.

Ninety four per cent of the parents attended the recent parent/teacher interviews.

St. Anthony's
The annual Christmas concert will be held tomorrow (Wednesday) night. Linnet.

The Christmas concert will be held tomorrow (Wednesday) night starting at 7 p.m. at the school.

Students are looking forward to January when they start swimming lessons. Notices will be sent home notifying the parents of the actual dates.

The next meeting for the Lindale School Association is Jan. 7 at 7 p.m. in the school library.

Elementary B
Students will be going swimming this Friday - the last day of school before the Christmas break.

Teachers and administration staff take this opportunity to wish all the parents a Merry Christmas and a happy New Year.

Students driving towards a cafeteria at FMHS

A fund raising drive has been started at the Frank Maddock high school for a cafeteria.

Student union president Gillian MacLellan says a current chocolate drive is expected to net $2,000 toward the establishment of a cafeteria in the Drayton Valley school.

However, MacLellan says a cafeteria is not definite.

Principal Al Day says a cafeteria is a long-term goal. He added, "it's a little premature to even think about it."

Day said he originally felt a cafeteria was between three and five years down the road but added, "I hate to even guess."

At the present time the school opens a double room to serve as a cafeteria. It also includes a cold concession service where students can purchase bars and chips. Vending machines are close by in the hallway. A hot canteen, that sells hamburgers, hot dogs, soup and fries operates out of the kitchen in the gym.

MacLellan says the cold canteen is likely the most popular. And, the winter months are the most popular for students staying at school for lunch.

Town slogan officially adopted in 1963

Drayton Valley is the Oil Capital of the World.

Former mayor Adrian Meier has advised the town that the slogan was officially adopted at a May 21, 1963 council meeting. The actual motion was made by W.F. Snodgrass.

The Pembina News Advertiser carried a front page article in their May 22, 1963 issue signifying the adoption of the town slogan.

The article stated Drayton Valley has been officially proclaimed the Oil Capital of the World. It is known that this field is the largest and most productive of any field in the world.

The 'Roughneck' magazine carried a full page ad from the City of Edmonton (the Oil Capital of Canada), extending congratulations to Drayton Valley, the Oil Capital of the World.

Plans were also announced for a celebration on June 22, which was the same week when the official announcement and recognition of this field as a major oil field of the world, which was made on June 17, 1953. That was the announcement following the historic discovery by Socany Vacuum, that their No. 1 discovery well on the Gien farm near Violet Grove, had yielded a tremendous potential.

Last month the Chamber of Commerce approached town council, to officially adopt the slogan Oil Capital of the World, but tabled their presentation due to new information found in the Guinness World Book of Records. They list a field in Saudi Arabia as the largest.

Murray leaves to build leases in Africa

By Bernice Johnson

388-3863
Max, Anne and Shari Capanuk and Jean Melin enjoyed a week-long holiday at Waikiki Beach, Hawaii in November.

Rob and Kim Whitley of Hollyview were recent weekend visitors with his parents, Fred and Anna Whitley.

Anna Whitley was the lucky winner of the Buck Lake forest cake raffle at Buck Lake Nov. 22.

The Sargeant family took in the rodeo in Edmonton Nov. 16 and visited relatives and friends while there. The following weekend Dale, Jean and Jodean visited relatives in Lacombe and Mirror.

There was a good turnout for bingo Nov. 25. George McLeod is the caller and bingos are the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month.

Brian Hansen was the lucky winner of the microwave from the Rimby Co-Op.

Irene White attended the Progressive Conservative's policy conference held at the Edmonton Inn Nov. 7-9.

She gave a report at the annual meeting at the seniors' Drop In Centre, Warburg, Nov. 27. There was a good turnout with representation from all parts of the constituency.

The Hon. Don Sparrow, along with MLA Shirley Cripps, was present and gave a report on numerous issues, followed by a question and answer period.

Cripps' annual supper will be held at the Winfield Recreation Centre Jan. 19 at 6:30 p.m.

Eight teams were entered in the fun bonspiel and the kick-off for the curling season. It was very short notice and consequently, most curlers had other commitments. A thank you to those who entered the two day, two-game spiel Nov. 29 and 30.

Gerry Varty, along with Stan Kryeta, Ted Hennig and Kim Toth tied for first place with the Harley Melin rink which included Barb Seely, Art Melin and Tammy Patien.

Tied for second was the Myles Melin and Chad Melin rinks.

Round robin curling started Dec. 9 and will run for two weeks before breaking for the holiday season. It will start again in January with the same schedule. Please phone Bernice at 388-3863 to enter ladies or mixed curling and Regan at 388-3991 for men's and mixed.

Mondays is men's curling, with the mixed curling on Tuesdays and Thursdays and ladies curling on Wednesdays.

The men's bonspiel will be held Jan. 12-16; oilmen's, Feb. 9-15; ladies, Feb. 23 to

Alder Flats News

March 1: mixed, March 9-15 Regan and Bernice will be taking entries for the men's and mixed spiels and Bernice and Josie (388-2296) for the ladies' spiel.

The senior citizens' annual Christmas dinner, sponsored by the Legion Ladies Auxiliary, was held Nov. 29 in the Legion Hall.

There was a large turnout. Marj Siegel received the gift for the eldest lady at tending and George Kohut was the recipient for the men. Georgia Harrison led the hymn singing and entertainment following supper.

Several Alder Flats seniors attended the Buck Lake senior citizens' Christmas supper Dec. 7. MLA Shirley Cripps extended personal greetings and the government's.

Albert and Ivy Kellgren visited their son Arnold and Sheila at Strathmore recently.

Max, Ann and Shari Capanuk and Mike and Delia Scrybalo attended the funeral of Mike and Anne's uncle, Andrew Dehod at Waskatenau Nov. 29. Dehod was a previous resident of the area and was 79 at the time of his death.

Kathleen and George Welsh of Edmonton visited her mother Muriel Weber recently.

Pat Murray left Dec. 2 for Ghana, Africa where he is employed with A&K Construction. The construction company was awarded the contract to build oil leases in Africa. Murray will be home at New Years for a month and will return until the job ends.

A pre-Christmas party was held for the Africa bound crew at the home of Richard and Penny Mundle.

J.L. and Ivy Seely, Max and Anne Capanuk and Harold and Bernice Johnson attended Noreen's Christmas supper at the Drayton Valley Legion Dec. 5.

Get well wishes to Mary Larson who spent a few days in the Drayton Valley hospital recently; Ivy Maciborsky was in the Rimbey hospital and to Eileen Dunn who had recent eye surgery.

The Community Library is open to the public the first Monday of every month, excluding holidays, and is also open to the community users each school day.

The Lindale School Association would like to thank everyone who helped make the donation and consignment auction in late November a success.

Special thanks to the businesses of Warburg, Breton, Tomahawk, Drayton Valley and Rimbey Meats who donated a number of items.

Also special thanks to Lawrence and Diane Fischer for all their help running the auction. To Julie Van Ember, Stanley and Joyce Sunderland, Dennis Martin and the ladies in the kitchen.

The next association meeting will be Jan. 7 in the school library at 7 p.m.

Albert and Calla Mackie, Olga Van Ember, and Donald and Isobel Martin have returned from a 10-day holiday in Maui, Hawaii. They report a good time and have plans to prove it. They found Pearl Harbor very interesting.

Congratulations to Mr and Mrs Bruce Martin (nee Debbie Larsen) who were married Dec. 3 at Waimea Falls Park, Honolulu, Hawaii. Allen and Helen Wideman, Allen and Valera Martin, Gordon Martin and Jim and Helen Martin all travelled to Hawaii to take in the wedding. They stayed another week and toured the island.

The Lindale Hall Association held their Christmas party Dec. 14. It started with a pot luck supper at 6 p.m., followed by a visit from Santa.

The Berrymoor 3H's club will hold their Christmas party today (Tuesday) at Delane Van Ember's, starting at 1 p.m.

Welcome to the com-

Bridget Pudde, Leah Goertsen and Jody Urchysyn at the Edmonton airport.

"Thrill of lifetime" for local travellers

Four Drayton Valley girls are experiencing a thrill of a lifetime in London, England.

Leah Goertsen, Bridget Pudde, Jody Urchysyn and Rev Nienaber, all Frank Mad dock high school grads went to London on a three month Student Working Abroad Program (SWAP). Goertsen, Pudde and Urchysyn all left prior to graduation and Nienaber joined them in late November.

The four, who won't be home for Christmas, returned to London last week from a trip to Gambia on the African Coast.

The Puddes, Ed and Shirley received a call from their daughter prior to leaving for Gambia, but due to poor phone connections had trouble understanding all the details. Ed Pudde called back.

but it took three hours to make the overseas connection, and by then, the girls had left.

The Puddes were anxiously awaiting a call from their daughter last week, to confirm they were back in London.

The trip, which is a first for the girls, will see them tour Sweden, stay with tour Sweden's relatives in Denmark for Christmas, get in some skiing in Switzerland, travel on to Germany and work their way down to the south of France.

They're scheduled to be home in the spring.

The four girls worked hard to make the trip possible. They all had jobs and even sold their cars before leaving.

Meanwhile, their parents eagerly await their return.

Haykowski elected

Ed Haykowski is the new chairman of the Powerhouse Further Education Council. Dallas Fraser was elected vice-chairman and Alvin Sperting was appointed secretary at a recent meeting.

Powerhouse coordinator Val Tucker reports she has been notified by advanced education to expect between a five and 10 per cent cut next year. Tucker says she won't know until January, as to how the expected cutbacks will affect Powerhouse courses.

"We may have to increase our registrations fees, but it won't be substantial," Tucker added.

The Powerhouse will release their winter program brochure next month and will be accepting registrations Jan. 14-16.

Anyone who has a skill and would like to get involved in a powerhouse course, are asked to call Van Tucker at 542-3373.

Assembly held at Onoway hall

The Drayton Valley congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses held their first circuit assembly in the newly renovated Assembly Hall at Onoway on a recent weekend.

All 587 in attendance were pleased with the attractive and comfortable facility, including the custom made theatre style seating, efficient cafeteria, large foyer and open areas for fellowship.

Jehovah's Witnesses and interested persons from six assigned congregations attended. The two-day program dealt with death dealing or detrimental courses like mind altering drugs or immoral living that would stop one's progress in Jehovah's ways.

Nine people had progressed in preceding months and were baptized Saturday morning. It was a new experience to witness the baptism from the auditorium with the custom made baptismal pool built into the platform.

The Saturday afternoon program centred on how the Bible's council can help fathers, mothers and children contribute to the entire family.

All in attendance were helped by means of a Bible talk and right conduct and up building conversation were the highlights.

Sunday's program was started by a discussion of a Bible scripture for the day.

The highlight on Sunday was the public talk, "Acts of God, What Are They," showing the differences between acts of God and natural disasters.

It should be noted that while it is The Assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses, all persons interested in progressing in Bible knowledge are welcome to attend any and all parts of the program. There will be similar assembly programs each weekend in December.

The Move Is On

Formula Shell is unlike any other gasoline ever introduced in Canada, no other company has anything like it.

Shell doesn't need special gimmicks to sell gas.
Our gas sells itself and heres why:

1. Smoother and better acceleration
2. Quicker engine response
3. Smoother drive
4. Better warm-up and idling performance especially in cold weather
5. Keeps new engines clean
6. With a cleaner carburetor and intake system, the engine will stay in tune longer
7. Cleans up older engines and reduces harmful deposits
8. May improve fuel economy in both new and old cars

Ray and Janet Ellis visited Steve and Flo Wieting in Medicine Hat recently. The Wietings celebrated their 40th wedding anniversary Nov. 6.

Energy tips

Portable appliances can give greater energy savings when you use them carefully.

- Use the appliance best suited to the job. Portable cooking appliances use about half the wattage of an electric range.
- Cook a double batch in your frypan or slow cooker and freeze the extra for another time. You save two ways since your freezer operates most efficiently when it is at least three-quarters full.

Local minister ordained to sacred order

It was a joyous occasion Sunday, Dec. 7 at All Saints Church Cathedral in Edmonton when Barry Parker, local Anglican minister, was ordained to the Sacred Order of Priest.

Six other young men were ordained at the same service.

The congregations of All Saints Church, Drayton Valley and St. Paul's Church,

Evansburg, were well represented. Members from other churches in Drayton Valley were also there.

The Anglican Church Women met at the home of Marian Palmer for the December meeting.

After opening devotions, Palmer read a chapter from the book, Something More by Catherine Marshall, telling of the miraculous cure of a woman with cancer.

The ladies' group have purchased a new vacuum for the church. Money from the turkey supper and bazaar is designated for the purchase of a photocopier for the church.

Small gifts of money will be sent to our prayer partners for Christmas (one hundred dollars was voted for Sorento).

In the future, when children are baptized, a large book of Bible stories will be given to each child.

A First Communion service, followed by a pot-luck breakfast was held Dec. 14, with a carol service at 10:30 a.m.

Communion Service, followed by the monthly birthday party, will be held Sunday, Dec. 21. Treats will be given to the Sunday school children at this time.

A bake sale will be held Friday afternoon, Dec. 19 at the Derrick Mall.

Christmas boxes will be packed for the senior citizens Dec. 22 at 1 p.m.

Santas' group needs help

Santas Anonymous needs HELP.

Volunteers are needed to help sort gifts, fill Christmas boxes and deliver hampers.

Santas Anonymous will be at the Legion Sunday, Dec. 21 starting at 10 a.m. to sort through the gifts. Help is also required on Dec. 22 at 11:30 a.m. and again on the 23rd.

Waitresses giving up tips

Waitresses working in the lounge at the Westwind Motor Inn are getting in the Christmas spirit.

This Friday, they will be collecting for Drayton Valley's Santas Anonymous. The waitresses will contribute all their tips to the community campaign.

The waitresses are also challenging other businesses in the community to get into the "spirit of Christmas" and help out Santas Anonymous.

Christmas hours longer

Most Drayton Valley stores have extended their hours to handle the Christmas rush.

For your shopping convenience, we suggest you clip this handy Christmas hours schedule:

Dec. 16	9 a.m. to 9 p.m.
Dec. 17	9 a.m. to 9 p.m.
Dec. 18	9 a.m. to 9 p.m.
Dec. 19	9 a.m. to 9 p.m.
Dec. 20	9 a.m. to 9 p.m.
Dec. 21	Noon to 5 p.m.
Dec. 22	9 a.m. to 9 p.m.
Dec. 23	9 a.m. to 9 p.m.

Stores are expected to close early. Several stores in Drayton Valley have special promotions lined up. So shoppers should check on the hours themselves.

It's O.K. to leave the car at home

Deciding whether or not to leave the car at home when going to a party isn't something most of us do, after all nobody goes to a party to get drunk.

But a party is a party. And most of us do use alcohol as a part of our socializing. Don't we owe it to ourselves and those we care about to leave the car at home? We can call a cab. Or arrange a ride with a friend who we know won't be drinking. All of us realize that drinking and driving is a mix we can do without.

Times have changed. Now we know that we can have more fun at the party when we're not worried about how to get home. We've also learned that we don't have to drink to have a good time. Today we can choose something non-alcoholic without being anti-social.

Crosswalks are changed

Drayton Valley town council and the RCMP are hoping to get across their message.

Literally. The two have joined forces to combat problems at crosswalks in town.

Cpl. Tom Turner says they are concerned about motorists not obeying the crosswalk lights and they plan to do something "before anyone gets hurt."

Crosswalks at Eldorado and St. Anthony schools are going to be changed from the constant blinking light to a "demand light." This means someone will have to activate the light before crossing.

"Crosswalks don't seem to mean much to the driving public," Turner explained. "We have to bring it to the attention of the motorists not to go through crosswalks occupied by pedestrians."

He also hinted the RCMP will be taking a more active role in patrolling the zones and looking for offenders. "One of the means of enforcement is to put a civilian car there and copy down license plate numbers and ticket the register owners. We have six months to lay a charge," he added.

"We have to educate people and we will educate through enforcement."

Part of the education process will be taking place in the schools. Turner says they hope to make the children understand "not to activate the flasher if they are not going to cross."

But the problems go beyond the students and the general public. Turner says they will also be cracking down on parents who park in or beside a crosswalk, reducing the vision of other motorists, to let their children off.

"Our aim and purpose is to educate the public before someone gets hurt."

Oilfield theft concern

Charges against a Peers man in connection with two oilfield thefts are the local RCMP's latest step against the problem.

"They are always a concern," said Cpl. Tim Vatamaniuk about oilfield thefts.

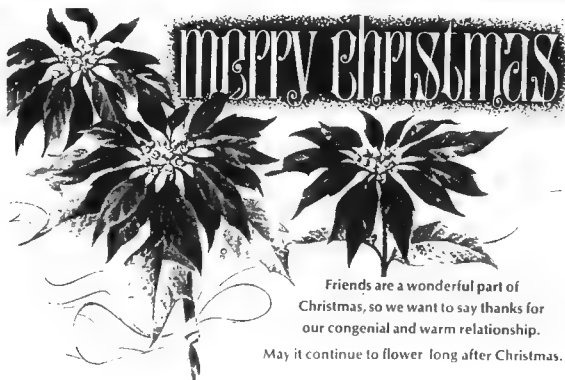

Vatamaniuk says the area is recording about the same number of oilfield thefts as last year. "There are no major thefts, mainly tools and barrels of oil," he added.

Vatamaniuk says part of the problem is many oil companies don't bother reporting thefts.

"If they are a victim of theft they should contact the local police," he added.

While not all thefts are reported, some of the ones which are, are difficult to solve.

"Another problem is the lack of identification on the property," he explained, pointing out they do have tools to track items for identification.

Friends are a wonderful part of Christmas, so we want to say thanks for our congenial and warm relationship.

May it continue to flower long after Christmas.

Health officials revise estimates

It's unlikely any school hot lunch programs will be shut down by health unit officials this winter, says the superintendent of schools for the County of Parkland.

Marv Tkachuk told board of education trustees at their November meeting the expectations of health unit officials, regarding the upgrading of school kitchen facilities, are much more realistic than they first appeared.

The county officially estimated it would cost $200,000 to renovate school facilities to meet the expectations.

After a recent meeting with the local health authority, however, the estimates of cost have been revised to between $30,000 and $40,000, Tkachuk said.

Schools will not be required to install heat boosters to bring water temperatures up to sterilization levels, for instance.

Plastic bags are stronger

Will that be plastic or paper? That's the question shoppers at Block's Food Store will be hearing from now on when they get their groceries bagged. Recent trends are partly the reason behind the switch to plastic bags, said Mohammed Hamdon. "The trend made us look at them a lot closer. They're also stronger and with the handles, they're very convenient," he said. The new plastic bags cost "slightly less, but it's not significant," said Hamdon, "and we're still offering the paper bags to anyone who wants them. All they have to do is ask and we'd be more than glad to accommodate them."

IMPULSE BUY?

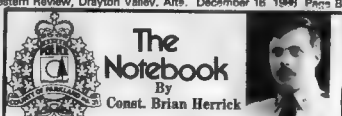

Come February, a lot of people scramble to get an RRSP before the deadline date. They may not be doing themselves any favours by impulse buying.

It's important to choose the proper type of RRSP to meet your long term needs and save taxes. If you'd like to talk about retirement planning, or financial planning in general, I can help.

PROFIT FROM OUR EXPERIENCE

The Notebook

By Const. Brian Herrick

During the summer months, when road conditions are good, traffic is light and travelling at the posted speed limit, there is always someone who insists on "tailgating".

This is a very dangerous habit, not only for himself but all persons using the highway. The rule under Section 82 of the Highway Traffic Act states that:

(82(1) No driver shall follow another vehicle more closely than is reasonable and prudent, having due regard for

(a) the speed of the vehicles,
(b) the amount and nature of traffic on the highway, and
(c) the condition of the highway.

(2) Each driver in a caravan or motorcade, other than a funeral procession, on a highway outside an urban area, hamlet or a built-up area along the highway, shall leave sufficient space between his vehicle or combination of vehicles to enable a vehicle to enter and occupy that space without danger.

Now that winter has arrived, the road conditions may be icy or covered with snow. If you feel you must travel the highway at the posted speed and while doing so approach another vehicle that is travelling below the speed limit, you do not have to "tailgate" for a distance before it is clear to pass.

Simply back off, wait until the road is clear, your visibility good, and then proceed to pass, taking into consideration all the surrounding safety factors that apply, and the concern of the person you are about to pass. After all, most users of the highway travel at a reduced speed because of road conditions, and their ability to cope with it.

Evergreen tree was the symbol of hope and joy

By Lois Peterson
Christmas is celebrated in various ways throughout the world, enriched by traditions often centuries old. The Christmas tree symbolizes the festive season for families in North America and parts of Europe.

Prior to its association with Christmas, the evergreen tree was a symbol of hope and joy; Vikings considered the evergreen a reminder that the darkness and cold of winter would end.

Oak trees were bedecked with fruit and candles by the Druids of England and France to honor gods of harvest and light. Ancient Roman festivals saw trees decorated with trinkets and candles.

Many legends surround the custom of the Christmas tree. The tradition gained popularity in 18th century Germany and spread throughout Europe. Prince Albert, consort of Queen Victoria, brought the practice to England where the royal couple decorated the first English Christmas tree in 1841. The Windsor Castle tree was decked out in candles, sweets, fruits and gingerbread.

Decorations became much more lavish as the tree gained popularity with wealthy families. During the mid 19th century, the Christmas tree began appearing in the United States. Some citizens were shocked and felt the tree was a return to pagan practices. However, just before the turn of the century, American merchants began importing Christmas ornaments from Germany — and the rest is history!

Greens and wreaths also mark the arrival of the Christmas season. The Advent wreath became popular in Northern Europe, perhaps inspired by the Swedish Crown of Lights. Both wreath and crown were made from evergreen boughs and hold four candles which represent the four Sundays in Advent.

Drayton Valley

Municipal Library will be closed Dec. 25, 26 and Jan. 1. Regular hours open will be in effect for the remainder of the holiday season.

Your library has a good selection of children's picture books and talking books on hand for the holidays. A temporary selection of Christmas books is available especially for our youngest patrons. Look for assorted titles in this collection here until mid-January.

Bring in your cards and stories for the library's Christmas customs and card tree. Most unique entry will win a prize. Don't forget to enter the draw for a Christmas stocking of prizes.

Veteran councillor

"We've got hard problems ahead"

Maurice McCullagh

By Lorne Christensen

After learning every "bump and crack" in the road to Stony Plain, veteran local politician Maurice McCullagh says this will be his last term.

"If I last another three years it'll be time for some younger fellow," McCullagh says.

He was recently re-elected as county councillor, marking his 15th year on county council. Before that, McCullagh was on the board for 1177, the county's predecessor, for five years.

"I know every crack and every bump, all the back roads and the main road," he explained about the route to Stony Plain.

McCullagh spends three or four days a week attending meetings in Stony Plain. But it's a job he enjoys.

The 68-year-old councillor says there isn't anything he would change if he could do it all over again. "I've been honest and straight. I've got nothing to be ashamed of," he added.

"I've done as much for my area as I can."

For McCullagh the community involvement goes far beyond the county level. He was commanding officer of the local cadet squadron for nine years, a civilian volunteer for the cadets for four years, president of the Legion for two years, has been on the hospital board for 14 years and on the board of education since being elected. He has also been the president of the local Rural Electrification Association for the last 20 years. "I can't find a replacement," he jokes, pointing out an officer has to bring a replacement with him to the meeting.

But most of McCullagh's time is taken up by his work with the County of Parkland. "It's almost a full-time job," he explains. The three or four days of meetings weekly are in addition to a couple of evening meetings each month.

"It keeps you busy, there are a lot of meetings."

"It's kind of a different lifestyle," he added. "There is always something coming up," he explains, adding about the dealings between unions, county employees and the general public. "You can't always deal with the individual guy with a pet peeve."

"You can't always satisfy the guy but you try to, I guess," McCullagh said.

McCullagh is expecting more problems in satisfying people in the time remaining in his term. "I see real problems ahead."

"We've got hard problems ahead," he explained. "Cutbacks, cutbacks, cutbacks; it's going to be very difficult."

McCullagh says he expects the problems to be both county-related and school-related. "It'll be bad in the schools," he said, pointing out money is "not so easy to get hold of."

But once the next three years are past the father of four girls, grandfather of seven will turn his interests to some of his hobbies. Included is his "little machine shop," and travelling, both on the list of things he plans to do. The war veteran said airplanes were his hobby but not so much now after losing his pilot's licence four years ago. McCullagh estimates he has put between 5,000 and 6,000 hours of flying time in — "a lot of hours."

"I taught quite a few kids how to fly," he added.

Christmas

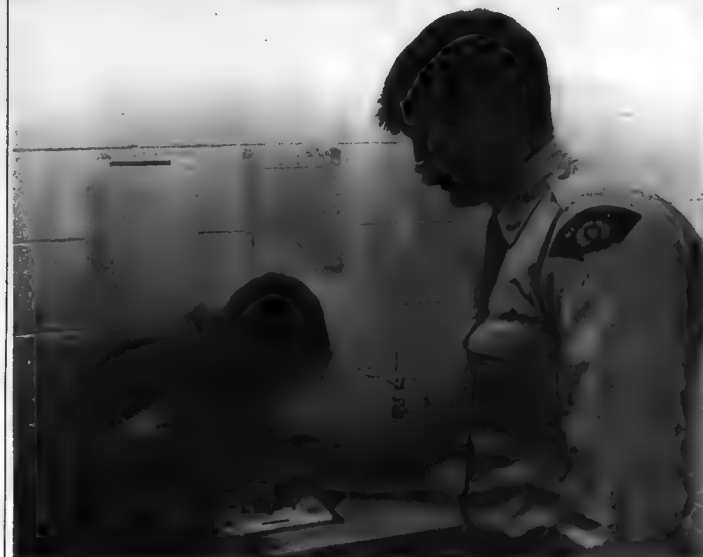

Light Up Contest!

CASH PRIZES!

Open to Drayton Valley businesses, town and rural residents, living within 10 miles of Drayton Valley. New this year will be an interior decoration contest for businesses.

Rural residents are asked to call the Chamber Office at 542-7578 to register their entry and give the location.

Judging will be done Monday, December 22nd. Cash prizes to the top two entries in each category.

Breath test!

After being stopped and failing the simple tests, the drunk driver is taken to the detachment. Once at the detachment the impaired driver is given a breath sample test. Above, Cpl. Tom Turner administers the test. If the driver blows over .08 per cent of alcohol in the blood he or she is considered illegally impaired.

This is a five part series on what happens when an impaired driver is stopped. The pictures will feature Cpl. Tom Turner along with Const. Richard Raymond, who agreed to pose as the "impaired driver" for the feature.

Non-alcoholic drinks

Festivities abound during the holiday season — treasured gatherings for far-flung friends and family.

Here, from Schweppes. The Great British Bubbly, is a selection of sophisticated, easy-to-make drinks that supply holiday cheer and palate appeal — without the alcohol — for you to offer guests who must drive home after the fun.

Snowball Punch
8 oz. lime juice
2 quarts orange juice
1½ quarts ginger ale

Chill ingredients; mix and pour juices over block of ice in punch bowl; pour ginger ale; float balls of lemon sherbet on top just before serving.

Serves 25.

The Holly Wreath
6 oz. cranberry juice
Tonic water

Fill 10 oz. glass with ice; pour juice to fill three-quarters of each glass; top off with tonic water. Garnish with apple slice.

The Mistletoe Mixer
1 tsp. powdered sugar
1 oz. grena-dine

Schweppes Bitter Lemon
Mix all ingredients; shake well; pour into tall glass filled with ice; top off with Schweppes bitter lemon. Garnish with mint sprig.

Snow Drift
1 can frozen lemonade
8 oz. cream
2 eggs

Fill blender 1/3 full with crushed ice; add lemonade, cream, eggs and tonic water; blend and serve in wide glasses.

Santa's Splash
1 oz. grena-dine

ginger ale
orange slices
cherries

Fill tall glass with ice; add grena-dine with a cherry; top off with ginger ale. Garnish with orange slice.

Home entertainers are often looking for ways to "lighten" the calorie count during the always calorie-indulgent holiday season.

This year, your friends and family members will certainly appreciate "light" mixed drinks — those with fewer calories than traditional concoctions.

Among those drinks created by Heublein Inc. for its popular Smirnoff Vodka are the Gimlette, Cranberry Cooler and the Smirnoff Spritzer.

The first has only 76 calories compared to the 136 for a standard gimlet. The Cooler, a variation of the popular 145-calorie Cape Codder, contains only 100 calories. And the Spritzer, akin to a Salty Dog, which has 135 calories, also contains just 100 calories.

Following are the complete recipes:

Gimlette
(76 calories)
1 oz. vodka, ½ package artificial sweetener, 1½ oz. limeade, squeeze and add lime wedge.

Cranberry Cooler
(100 calories)
1 oz. vodka, 2 oz. cranberry juice, 2 oz. club soda, orange wedge or slice of garnish.

Smirnoff Spritzer
(100 calories)
1 oz. vodka, 3 oz. grapefruit juice, 3 oz. mineral water, lime wedge, pineapple wedge for garnish.

Assistance needed to find hit-run driver

Breton RCMP are requesting public assistance in solving a hit-and-run motor vehicle accident.

On Nov. 27, at 7:30 p.m., a blue 1980 Mercury Marquis car was proceeding north on Highway 12 from Breton. The driver slowed down to turn west after crossing the railway tracks.

As the car made its turn

CRIME STOPPERS
1-800-922-TIPS

onto the gravel road, a second northbound vehicle attempted to pass on the left. The second vehicle collided with the driver's side of the car causing considerable damage.

The second vehicle did not stop or offer assistance. The same vehicle was later observed at a location four miles north of Breton and four miles east on a gravel road.

Police are attempting to locate any person having knowledge of the accident or the current location of a brown truck with damage to the front end.

Crime Stoppers will pay a cash reward for information leading to the arrest of any of the persons responsible for this offence. If you have information on this or any other criminal offence, call CRIME STOPPERS, toll-free, at 1-800-922-TIPS (922-8477). You do not have to reveal your identity, and if your information leads to an arrest, you qualify for a reward.

Car found vandalized and in the ditch

Between 8:30 p.m. on Nov. 20 and 5 p.m. Nov. 21, a 1966 red Dodge Coronet was parked on the eastbound shoulder of Highway 22, approximately one mile west of the North Saskatchewan River bridge.

The vehicle was found severely vandalized and pushed in the ditch.

Crime Stoppers will pay a cash reward for information leading to the arrest of any of the persons responsible for this offence. If you have information on this or any other criminal offence, call CRIME STOPPERS, toll-free, at 1-800-922-TIPS (922-8477). You do not have to reveal your identity, and if your information leads to an arrest, you qualify for a reward.

Car hit while parked by the church

Between 3:30 p.m. and 4:30 p.m. on Dec. 4, 1986 a red Chrysler LeBaron was hit from the rear in front of the Drayton Valley Baptist Church while the vehicle was parked.

Suspect vehicle was headed east-bound on 50 Ave. by 45 St. Suspect vehicle believed to be a mid-size and has square headlights.

Crime Stoppers will pay a cash reward for information

leading to the arrest of any of the persons responsible for this offence. If you have information on this or any other criminal offence, call CRIME STOPPERS, toll-free, at 1-800-922-TIPS (922-8477). You do not have to reveal your identity, and if your information leads to an arrest, you qualify for a reward.

Flat deck stolen

Between 6 p.m. Nov. 9 and 9 a.m. Nov. 10, someone stole an 8x12 dual wheel flat deck trailer from the parking lot of the Drayton Valley Hotel.

It is white in color and loading ramps were stolen with it.

Crime Stoppers will pay a cash reward for information

leading to the arrest of any of the persons responsible for this offence. If you have information on this or any other criminal offence, call CRIME STOPPERS, toll-free, at 1-800-922-TIPS (922-8477). You do not have to reveal your identity, and if your information leads to an arrest, you qualify for a reward.

Generosity is no reason for careless spending

Christmas is a season of giving, and a particularly popular time of year for making tax-deductible donations.

According to Larry Bruner of the Consumers' Association of Canada in Ontario, tax-deductible donations by individual Canadians in 1984 totalled $1.8 billion.

"But generosity is no reason for careless spending," Bruner said. It is worth the donor's time to assess his budget and tax status before deciding how much to donate to charities.

Bruner finds that the average of pre-tax income donated to charities in Canada, 0.5 per cent, is low compared to American averages, largely due to the number of state-funded programs in Canada. Hence, Canadian charities are "battling for bucks," with the help of employers, who offer payroll deduction plans for popular charities such as the United Way and through federal tax breaks.

Donations of up to 20 per cent of your net income can be fully deducted from taxable income, and deductions can be carried forward for up to five years. Bruner reminds donors "if you're carrying forward a deduction, make sure to photocopy the receipt and attach a note that explains the deferral."

And don't expect to write off all donations. "The cost of administration means you probably won't get a receipt from most charities for small donations, under $5, say."

Also keep in mind that when buying something for charity, "tax law generally considers the transaction to be a purchase, not a donation," in other words, a ticket for $100 to a charity dinner, after the estimated fair-market share has been subtracted, may only be 80 per cent tax deductible.

Umbrella agencies such as the United Way or National Voluntary Organizations can help direct you if you have only a general idea of the kind of work you would like to support, says Bruner. "If supporting community recreation activities interests you, local boys' and girls' clubs and YM/YWCAs can offer suggestions."

Jay Lowe from Jacqueline Gardens near Niton Junction examines a poinsettia they grew.

Traditional flowers for after the holidays

It's poinsettia time again.

Consumers buying the popular Christmas flower should have an attractive flowering plant past Christmas, says a greenhouse specialist, Mirza Mohyuddin, a specialist with Alberta Agriculture, says if consumers buy healthy poinsettias they will last past Christmas.

The traditional flowers are making an early appearance but should stay healthy because it was such a good year for their growth.

The specialist offered some advice for people planning to buy poinsettias. He said to first look for quality plants grown in Alberta because they will last longer than plants brought from other areas.

The plant itself should have red leaves just about the same size as green leaves. He added to select a plant with dark green leaves as opposed to something pale. And finally check the flower at the centre of the plant.

"I'm not talking about the big red leaves, but right in the centre of the plant there should be a flower. If it is healthy and fresh looking then the plant will last. If the flower is wilted or mouldy then the plant will not last as long," Mohyuddin explained.

Fair was successful

By Betty Bouck

Six members and one guest, Olga Brown, met at the home of Edna Hockley Nov. 28.

Discussion on the Crisis Line was held. Volunteers are badly needed if the line is to continue.

The Christmas Fair was successful, but attendance was down from last year.

A motion was made to donate $100 to Santos Anonymous and $50 to WIN House (Women in Need).

Roll call given by all members was something about Quebec (past or present).

A program on education and culture by Doreen Gustafson covered almost everything, from industries to housing, customs and traditions, climate and history.

SKY BANDITS Dec. 17-18

This rib-tickling British comedy features two American bank robbers who wrangle their way out of a jail term and into World War I. Without any training, they fly a bi-plane into battle on a dare and thus set up a series of madcap misadventures.

STAR TREK IV, THE JOURNEY HOME Dec. 19-22; 25-Jan. 1

If Scotty doesn't beam you into the theatre to see Star Trek IV, The Journey Home, you may have to do something so mundane as to attend without benefit of 23rd century technology.

But you certainly won't want to miss the furiously-paced sequel featuring all the old familiar faces — Admiral Kirk (William Shatner), Mr. Spock (Leonard Nimoy, who also directs Star Trek IV), Scotty (James Doohan) and Dr. McCoy (DeForest Kelley). Spock is revived from Star Trek III, and somehow he picked up quite a sense of humor during the deep sleep.

The starship crew find themselves in the position of having to return to the year 1986 so they can take a couple of humpback whales into the 23rd century, as they are essential to the survival of the earth and by the 23rd century they've been eliminated.

The crew's return in 1986 is a wild and zany experience. Spock covers his ears with a sweatband and to the delight of audiences everywhere, he brings to the screen a dimension of humor and non-violence that the whole family will enjoy.

Star Trek IV boldly goes where it's never gone before — into the land of laughs.

Several changes to CPP

The changes to the Canada Pension Plan (CPP), which comes into effect Jan. 1, contains 'flexible retirement' provisions enabling contributors to receive retirement benefits as early as age 60 or as late as age 70.

The CPP amendments take into account the fact that retirement, today, does not always mean people completely stop earning — nor does it always happen age 65.

Under the new rules, contributors making application to Health and Welfare Canada for retirement benefits before they reached age 65 are eligible to receive a reduced pension. The amount of the pension will be reduced by 0.5 per cent for each month between the contributor's retirement date and their 65th birthday. In order to be eligible, the applicant must prove that he/she has "wholly and substantially ceased working" and has reached at least age 60.

Contributors may also wait as late as age 70 before receiving retirement benefits. In this case they are eligible for a larger monthly pension plan than they would have received at age 65. The pension amount will be increased by 0.5 per cent for each month between their 65th birthday and the date application is made for benefits. Contributors delaying receiving the pension until after age 70 will receive the same increases as those who retire at age 70.

By way of example, Jacques Lemare, regional director for the Income Security Programs Branch of Health and Welfare Canada in Alberta/N.W.T., cited the case of two fictional individuals who make application under the flexible retirement provisions.

The first is a woman who has retired on her 63rd birthday, Feb. 1, 1987, and immediately applied for her pension under CPP. She has made maximum contributions to the plan since the plan began.

"Had she waited until age 65 before receiving her pension, she would have been eligible for maximum benefits which in 1987 will be approximately $520 a month," she explained. "Because she is two years (24 months) under age 65, she is entitled to a reduced pension which is 13 per cent (0.5 per cent per month times 24 months) less than the current maximum, or about $457.60 a month."

The second case is that of a man who retired at age 65 in 1987 but has decided to wait until age 70 before applying for CPP retirement benefits. He would be entitled to the maximum monthly benefit of about $520 (in 1987) had he elected to receive his CPP entitlement. However, by waiting the additional five years as allowed under the flexible retirement provision, he will be eligible to receive a monthly pension 30 per cent (0.5 per cent per month times 60 months) above the rate calculated at age 65.

In both of these cases, the individuals will continue to receive their respective pension amounts, adjusted annually for inflation, for as long as they live.

Flexible retirement is but one of the many changes which take place to the Canada Pension Plan in 1987.

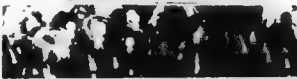

Other provisions include:

- increased disability benefits;
- broader eligibility requirements for survivor and children's benefits;
- provisions for the division of pensionable earnings in the event of divorce or separation;
- options for the division of CPP retirement benefits between spouses in a continuing marriage.

ERCB NOTICE OF HEARING

PENBINA FIELD APPLICATION NO. 860544 CANADIAN OCCIDENTAL PETROLEUM LTD

TAKE NOTICE that the Energy Resources Conservation Board will hold a public hearing in the British Columbia Centre, British Columbia, commencing on Tuesday, 20 January 1987 at the hour of 9:00 a.m. for the purpose of hearing representations made in connection with an application by Canadian Occidental Petroleum Ltd for approval of a scheme for the processing of oil gas at its plant located in Legal Subdivision 5 of Section 35, Township 48, Range 4, West of the 100th Meridian, zone 15 (northern) southwest of the hamlet of Anzac, Alberta.

The gas plant would be designed to process 254.6 thousand cubic metres per day of raw sweet gas and 225.4 thousand cubic metres per day of raw sour gas from which 547.0 cubic metres of sales gas, 12.4 cubic metres of LPG mix, 10.7 cubic metres of propane and 14.4 cubic metres of butane would be recovered. A maximum of 4.8 tonnes of sulphur dioxide would be emitted into the atmosphere through the incinerator stack, 55 metres in height.

Copies of the application and information and particulars of the application shall be on or before 15 January 1987, seven copies of the subject matter being advertised at the address set out below and one copy with the applicant at its above address in accordance with the Board's Rules of Practice, copies of which may be obtained from any Board office (R100-1) Calgary, Alberta on 8 December 1986.
